

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

April 22, 2011

CONTACT: Whiz Harris
804-438-4359
wharris@rw-c.org

Rappahannock Westminster-Canterbury Announces Winners in Annual Golf Tourney

Picture-perfect weather helped make Rappahannock Westminster-Canterbury Foundation's 27th annual Open Golf Tournament. The King Carter Golf Club was in great shape for the 84 golfers who teed off for a great cause on Tuesday, April 19.

Coastal Builders sponsored lunch for participants. After the event, golfers attended an awards reception catered by the RWC Dining Services Staff.

When the final scorecards were submitted, tourney officials announced winners in each flight. The ladies' flight was won by the foursome of Helen Wohlleben, Ruth Fisher, Ann Stanley, and Violet Whay.

The men's first flight winners were the Chem-Dry team of Matt Ficklin, Orie Burnett, Monty Todd, and Bill Lyons. Eagle Fire's team of Harry Hoffon, Ray Clarke, Thomas Boyle, and Pete Zoltos, placed second in the flight.

The Second Flight was won by the MD Associates team of Michael Saunders, Chip Childress, Robert Haskins, and Matt Cini. The team of Jeff Penny, Jim Slabaugh, Greg Peete, and Mason Dirickson placed second. Matt Cini also captured the prize for the longest drive.

The men's third flight champions were a team that included Carl Rice, Phillip Keyser, and Jeffrey Jewell, while Chesapeake Investment Group foursome of Greg Powell, John Sadler, Dick Foard, and Mac Conway finished second in the flight. Conway was also winner of the "Closest to the Pin" contest.

The fourth flight champions were the Chesapeake Bank team of John O'Shaughnessy, Lee Stephens, Susan Hill, and Jimmy Carter. Placing second were the team from Noblett Oil that included N. Faulkner, R. Faulkner, and David Richardson.

RWC officials were delighted with the turnout and the support provided by the community. "We believe this tournament allows us to get the community involved in supporting important RWC programs in a way that is a win-win for everyone," said RWC president Stuart Bunting.

Whiz Harris, RWC's vice president for development, said that tournament proceeds benefit the Foundation's Fellowship Fund, which provides financial assistance to qualified residents for entrance or monthly fees, and to qualified participants in the Adult Day Program.

Chesapeake Bank/Chesapeake Investment Group and Eagle Fire were Gold Sponsors for the tournament. Silver Sponsors included Keiter, Lowe Brockenbrough, Noblett Oil, Northern Neck Mechanical, and Coastal Builders. Rumsey & Bugg was a Patron Sponsor. Additionally, Guernsey Tingle, Chesapeake Bank, Eagle Fire, Keiter, Coastal Builders, Lowe Brockenbrough, The James Company, the RWC Residents' Association, Open Door Communications, Breeden and Breeden, Wells Fargo, Tri-Star and Spotts-Fain were hole sponsors.

Golf courses and clubs providing gifts included Wintergreen, the Golden Horseshoe, Bay Creek, Lee's Hill, Indian Creek, the Williamsburg National Golf Club, Gauntlet Golf Club, Hobbs Hole, King Carter Golf Club, the Tartan Golf Club, Quinton Oaks, the Tradition Golf Clubs at Brickshire, Royal New Kent, The Crossing, Kiskiack, and Stonehouse. Prizes were donated by the Dandelion, Hometown Lighting, Yours Truly Photography, Khakis, Area Access, Carol Ann Consalvi, the Earth Store, River Market, Burke's Jewelers, and Highlander Studios.

The tournament committee included Ed French (Chairman), Robert Barlowe, Ken Bransford, Ginny Burnette, Dixon Foster, Keith Hudgins, Pat Kirby, J. Moon, John O'Shaughnessy, Violet Whay, Pat Willett, Whiz Harris, Andrea Cralle and J.D. Wilson.

***

CAPTION: Rappahannock Westminster-Canterbury Foundation's Annual Golf Tournament was held April 19 at King Carter Golf Club. All proceeds help to support the Fellowship Fund.